

Future Shock--You can't do it alone!

Eric E. Holdeman, CEM

King County

Office of Emergency Management

In the Past

- No Programs
- Civil Defense Focus
- Terrorism Not Considered
- Single Hazard Plans
- Heavy dependency on Military
- Little Cross-Discipline Interaction
- Emphasis in Private Sector on IT Recovery

Today

- All-Hazard Focus
- Improved Comprehensive Planning
- Predominantly Single-Discipline Mutual Aid
- Mutual Aid with Neighbors
- Some Mobilization Plans
- Ascendancy of Homeland Security

The Future

- Joint
- Unified
- Regional
- National
- Coordinated
- Collaborative
- Inter-operable

Joint

- Planning is Cross Discipline/Cross Jurisdictional
- Joint Operations
  - Responding Together
- Joint Public Information
  - Communicating Together
- Incident Command System (ICS)

Unified Operations

- All Levels of Government
  - Federal
  - State
  - City/County
  - Special Purpose Districts
- Public Utilities
- Private Sector
- Unified Command

Regional

- Look at Your Maps--Where do they end?
- Define Your Region
  - King County, Central Puget Sound, Western Washington, Northwest
- What is Politically Possible?

National--International

- Weapons of Mass Destruction (WMD)
  - Plowing New Ground, e.g., Anthrax
  - New Standards for Responding
  - Special Resource Intensive
- Emergency Management Assistance Compact (EMAC)

Coordinated

- Allow Time for Process
- Give up Totally Independent Action for a More Effective Response
  - Cast a Wide Net
  - Think WAN not LAN
- Set a Place at the Table for Business

Collaborative

- New Partnerships with Old Enemies
  - Agree Where you can Agree
- Intelligence Sharing
  - Between Law Enforcement
  - Outside Law Enforcement
- Cross Discipline Mutual Aid

Inter-operable

- Planning
- Operations
- Communications
  - Locally, State, Federal

Summary

- No single jurisdiction or agency has the ability to respond to catastrophic disasters that are being planned today by our enemies. Success in the future will be defined by the degree to which we jointly commit to working together today!
